Bosch GH0 185-LI Black, Blue 14000 RPM:

This tool is suitable for planing natural and processed wood materials and for removing material to create a flat surface.

Ensured flatness in every plane

It has a motor brake that stops the blade drum in less than a second, an increased battery run time thanks to its one-blade head system, and 3 different chamfer grooves. You find an extra blade storage slot in the tool that is already loaded with 1 extra blade in scope of supply. It also comes with a chip bag and a parallel guide. A constant electronic feature maintains the cutting speed when the tool comes under load.
